

NO FACEBOOK FOR SCHOOLS ?

Facebook is not for schools.
Or is it?

Can social media bring forth new forms of participation? And if so, what kind of responsibilities rest
with schools?

These are the main questions to be explored in a Round Table Debate of national and international personalities from the fields of politics, education, science and social media.

PESTALOZZI
PROGRAMME

SCHOOL

This event takes place in the framework of the second Summer School of the Pestalozzi Programme of the Council of Europe organised in cooperation with the Academy of Bad Wildbad. The Summer School replaces the training seminars jointly organised since 1978 (a total of 134).

Under the overall title "Promoting Participation" about 80 education professionals from all over Europe will have the opportunity to follow a wide range of workshops. This opportunity for professional development and exchange also seeks to network education professionals within the Community of Practice of the Pestalozzi Programme: a community which promotes the values and principles of the Council of Europe in the everyday practice of education and offers a space for the professionalization of European education practitioners within and for our diverse societies.

The main working language of the Summer School is English, with courses also offered in German and in French.
